ABOUT THIS PROGRAM

Being an Emotional Intelligent Leader can help leaders recognize how attitudes – both their own and those people they interact with prevents them and others from reaching their potential.

Replacing these with more useful attitudes, feelings and thoughts can provide a powerful means of improving performance. Understanding the power of Emotional Intelligence can assist in identifying and adapting behaviours in order to achieve more.

ABOUT THE PROFILING TOOL

Emotional Intelligence uses the Emotional and Social Competency Inventory (ESCI), a unique online survey tool that's already proved invaluable to thousands of managers and professionals around the world. It delivers a 360° assessment of an individual's emotional and social behaviours that you can, as an accredited user, quickly interpret and act upon the results.
